Dear Valued Customer,

We are writing to inform you of some exciting advancements in our business. Two years ago, STERIS purchased General Econopak, Inc. and the GEPCO brand to become part of STERIS's Life Science business segment. There have been some changes during this period, but we now have a clear picture of the value our combined company can bring to your practice. Recently, we formed a new division within the company, STERIS Animal Health, dedicated to providing products, technology and services that deliver comprehensive, procedure-based solutions.

STERIS Animal Health leverages our engineering and technical excellence, knowledgeable support team and the world's largest sterility and infection control platform to offer dynamic solutions for today's veterinarians. Our unique portfolio now consists of GEPCO Veterinary Drapes & Gowns, Spectrum Veterinary Instruments, and Endo-i Veterinary Endoscopes.

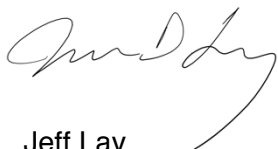

Over the next several months we will be transitioning our manufacturing facility from Philadelphia, PA to our headquarters in Birmingham, AL. The GEPCO products that you have grown to depend upon will continue using the same quality materials and products. To enhance our ability to provide product to be made in a timely manner, we have invested in new, state-of-the-art equipment and automated processing for the new facility. Our goal is to ensure that our Customers' needs are met, first and foremost. The reorder number and product description with which you order your GEPCO products, and the manner in which you place your order will not change at this time. We are exploring simplified online ordering and recurring order management to streamline the process.

We greatly value your feedback and encourage you to reach out to us regarding ways that we can improve our product, service, and delivery method during this transition time. We will be sending a Customer survey and increased communications over the coming months to keep you abreast of our progress.
